

Jignesh Shah named 'Young Global Leader'

MUMBAI: The World Economic Forum, an international body championing economic and social issues, chose Jignesh Shah, the managing director and CEO of multi-commodity futures exchange (MCX), as a 'Young Global Leader of 2007'. The title recognises top leaders under the age of 40 from around the world for their professional accomplishments, commitment to society and their potential to contribute to shaping the future of the world. The selection is made by a panel of eminent media leaders chaired by Her Majesty Queen Rania of Jordan.
