PRESS RELEASE

63 Moons’ ODIN stands tall in this need of hour

Decides to offer 50% discount to ensure seamless transfer of technology to Odin from NSE’s Now

Mumbai, June 9, 2020: Odin, the flagship product of leading technology services provider 63 moons technologies limited (63 moons), has decided to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with brokerages, in this time of Covid-19 crisis which has got further compounded due to NSE deciding to shut its trading software NOW.

Odin, which holds approximately 70% of the retail broking market share in trading software, has decided to provide a discount of 50% on its pricing and technological support to enable smooth transition of trading terminals from NSE’s NOW and to ensure business continuity in this hour of crisis. Odin has been a market leader for more than two decades catering to trading requirements of brokerages.

Since it was conceptualized, Odin has been innovation-centric. The product became ‘Number One’ in the world across trading terminals within a short span of launching, and still holds best position.

Commenting on the development, Keshav Samant, CEO – Brokerage Technology Solutions said, “We are committed to serve the financial markets by making Odin as a more user-friendly product remains unwavering. We are continuously working at making Odin a more innovative platform with cutting-edge solutions.”
